

ANTIMICROBIAL

So how do silver ions kill germs?

It is the Silver Ions that "kill" microbes

Microbial cells have a sophisticated internal electrical system that they use in all of their life processes. Silver ions, because of their positive electrical charge, have the ability to disrupt this process and prevent the microbes from conducting electricity which makes them unable to function or replicate, and so they collapse and die.

Because of the way that silver ions work there can be no resistance either inherited or developed.

The fact that silver ions are effective against a very broad range of micro-organisms is well established and, due to recent advances in the delivery of silver ions, together with the problems associated with antibiotics, they are being used in a rapidly growing range of medical and industrial products, and when combined with singlet oxygen this effect is dramatically multiplied.

HydroCell

Silver Oxygen Complex

Using HydroCell on a regular basis is like having a second immune system.

It has no side effects or interactions with other drugs, nutrients or therapies.

Your energy levels will increase and you will experience a heightened sense of well-being.

HydroCell uses nature's two most powerful healing agents, oxygen and silver, in a synergistic complex

Oxygen

Oxygen is one of life's most important elements and the single most important nutrient to be taken in to the human body. We need oxygen to create energy, digest food, metabolize fats, and to clean and detoxify our vital organs. It is so important that we will die in a matter of minutes if we are deprived of it.

Oxygen is needed to supply the energy we need for our immune system to function correctly.

It is carried from our lungs by the red blood cells to every part of the body, and provides energy to the brain as it stimulates enzyme systems throughout the body.

Oxygen is needed for cell regeneration and is vital for all functions of the human body.

A lack of oxygen can result in many diseases, sickness and suffering.

Antibiotics

Antibiotics are effective against bacteria because they are living organisms, but not against a virus because they are not actually living organisms and so are always in constant need to enter a living cell to reproduce.

A virus will enter the body of living host, travel through the blood stream and enter a cell, recode the cell to make copies and then release millions of these copies into the blood stream which will then enter other cells and do the same and so on.

These micro-organisms, along with bacteria and fungus release vast quantities of toxic waste which promote infection and disease by directly damaging host tissues and by disabling the immune system.

Some bacterial toxins, such as Botulinum neurotoxins, are some of the most potent natural toxins known.

Once the immune system is compromised it can have great difficulty in dealing with the bacteria and virus and as the toxin levels in the blood increase, the immune system can collapse. Ultimately the virus will overcome the defense system of the host unless it is stopped.

These toxins can be reduced by adding extra singular oxygen in the same way that the human immune system uses self-generated oxygen free radicals (single oxygen atoms) to destroy bacterial and viral infections and to oxidize toxins so the body can eliminate them naturally.

This extra reactive oxygen works naturally with the immune system and helps to take the load off it, enabling it to recover and deal with these toxins in the normal manner.

How does HydroCell work?

Microbes like all living organisms rely on:

1. Internal biological/chemical reactions taking place.
2. An electrical or nervous system to organize these reactions.

Traditionally the way to kill germs has been to use some sort of compound or antibiotic that will stop these chemical reactions taking place in the organisms, but unfortunately many microbes have become immune to antibiotics and the newer and stronger antibiotics can have numerous side effects

HydroCell uses a totally different approach.

Rather than attack the microbe with compounds or anti-biotics to stop the chemical reactions, HydroCell disables their nervous or electrical system with positively charged Silver Ions and once this happens the chemical reactions cease and the microbe denatures and is harmlessly flushed out of the body.
